The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States will result in a shortage in the supply of inedible tallow or grease for defense and private account, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

Issued this 26th day of July 1943.

MARVIN JONES,
War Food Administrator.

Press Release Immediate:
July 27, 1943.

Essential war industry, which uses about 25 to 35 percent of the available supply of tallow and grease, will be given preference over other users in obtaining its requirements of these raw materials.

The War Food Administration has issued Food Distribution Order No. 67, effective August 1, 1943, requiring suppliers to give this preference up to 30 percent of their tallow and grease production to industrial users holding specific Government authorization to obtain these products.

Soap manufacturers, largest users of tallow and grease, are not permitted to apply for authorizations. Thus, it is necessary for them to wait on their requirements until war industries have been supplied.

In issuing the order, WFA pointed to present shortage of tallow and grease, and said that uncontrolled distribution has made it difficult for small but essential war industries to obtain supplies for the production of vitally needed products, principally lubricating greases.

Current soap production will be maintained, officials said, by the use of crude soybean, palm and cocoanut oils, recently released in large quantities for that purpose, and other domestic materials to augment the short supply of tallow and grease.

War industries applying for authorizations to obtain the products should use form FDA 478, available in all regional offices of the Food Distribution Administration, and file their applications by August 15 (to cover September deliveries) with the Fats and Oils Branch, Food Distribution Administration, Washington, D. C.

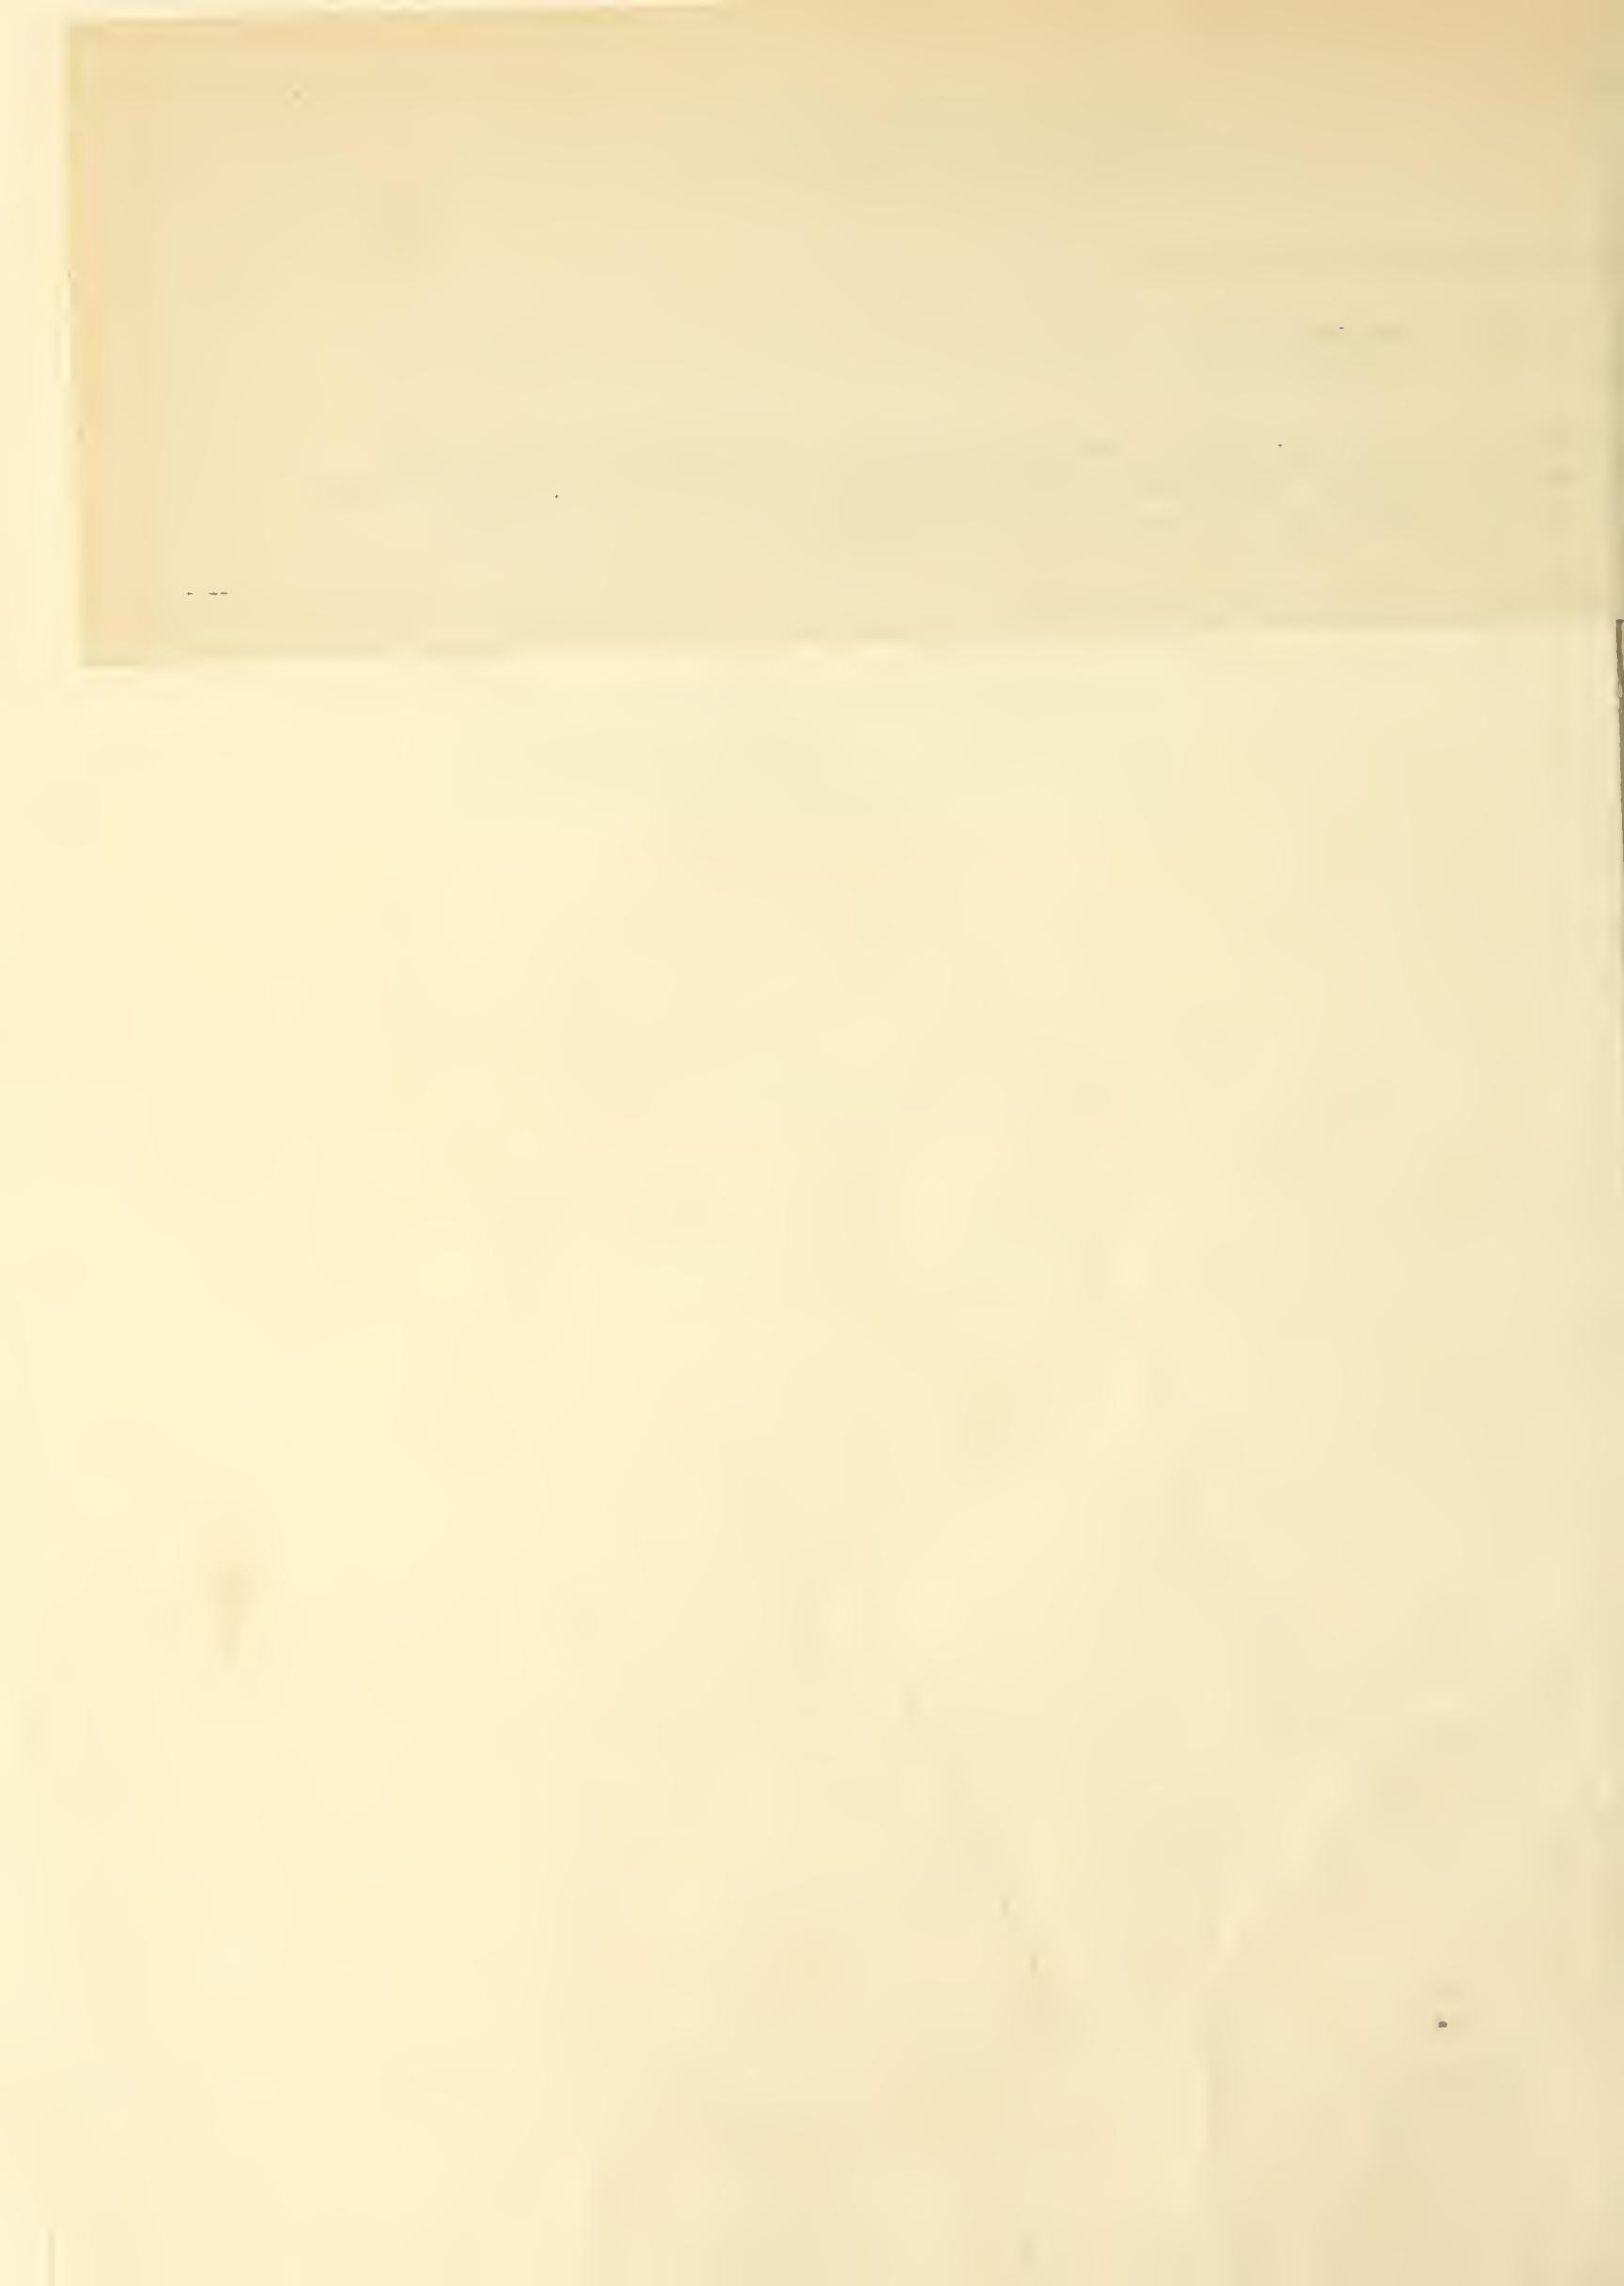

FDO No. 67 also limits inventories of tallow and grease users to a 45 days' supply, and inventories of producers and dealers to a 15 days' supply.

ASHLEY SELLERS,
Assistant War Food Administrator.

War Food Administration:
Summary to FDO 67 Amendment 1.

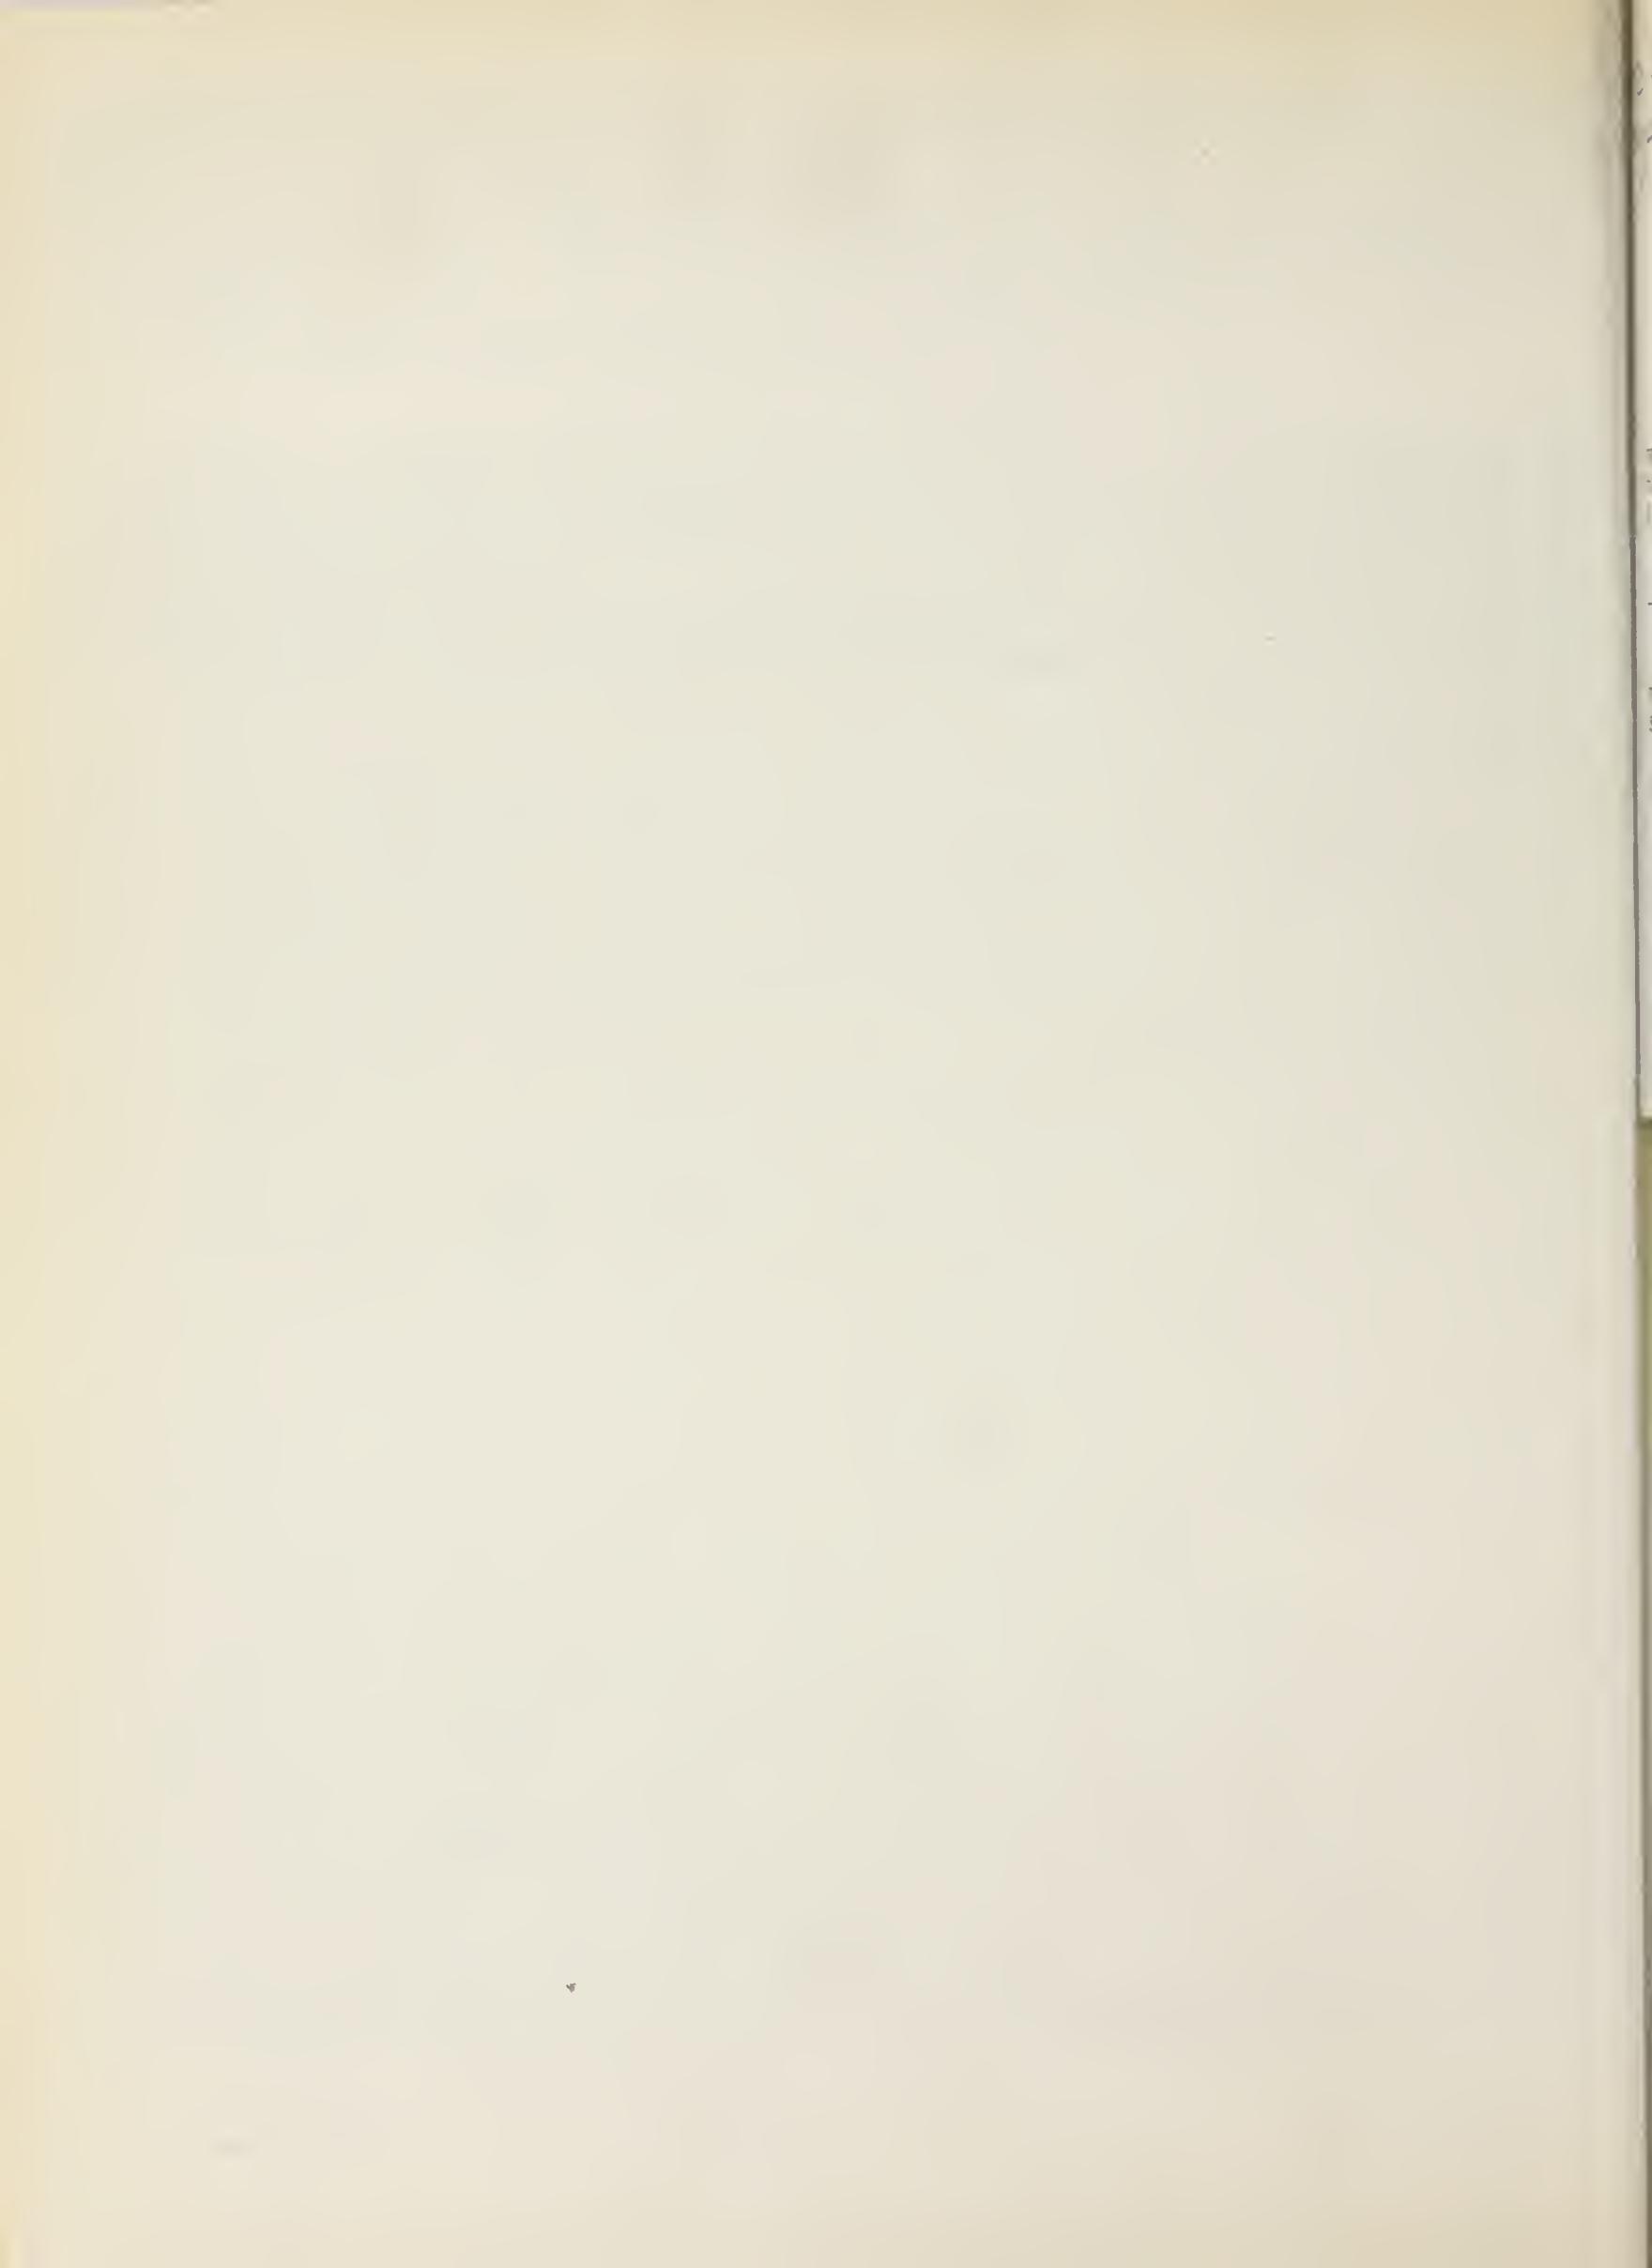

Increased production of tallow and grease will permit users to maintain a 60 days' supply after November 20, the War Food Administration has announced.

Food Distribution Order No. 67 has limited these inventories, along with those of fatty acids derived from tallow and grease, to a 45 days' supply since August 1. Control of the fatty acid inventories, now included in FDO 87, has been removed from FDO 67.

An amendment to FDO 67 also permits use of tallow and grease from the limited inventories without authorization by the Food Distribution Administration. It still is necessary, however, for all industrial users (except soap manufacturers) to obtain authorization for delivery of these fats by applying on FDA form 478 to the Fats and Oils Branch, Food Distribution Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

War Food Administration,
Summary to Food Distribution Order 67
Am. 2.

Tallow and Grease Inventory Limitation Raised

Because current seasonal production of tallow and grease is taxing producers' storage facilities, the War Food Administration will permit users to maintain a 90-day inventory, beginning February 25, 1944.

Under the tallow and grease order, Food Distribution Order No. 67, users' inventories have been limited since November 20, 1943 to a 60-day supply. The change was made by an amendment to the order. Within the next several weeks, when production tapers off, it is planned to return to the 60-day limitation.
